NATIONALS AND DALLAS IN TIE GAME. LOCALS MAKE ONLY THREE

Special Dispatch to The Star.

DALLAS, Tex., March C4 .- Manager Cantillon and his husky band of Washington players ran against a snag yesterday in the shape of a clever left-handed pitcher by the name of Moore. The best the visitors could do against the "kid" was three hits, and as a result. after seven innings of play, the game was stopped on account of rain with the score standing 1 to 1. There were practically only three left-handed batsmen to face Moore—Clymer, Ganley and Freeman—and big Jerry copped two hits. Charley Street made the other hit, so that the right-handed batsmen had no excuse to offer. Moore sent over sizzlers throughout the seven innings, and, having good control, kept the ball close to the inside edge of the plate.

dist by P. D. Holmes and the Peck Memorial Presbyterian Church by H. Memori

Walter Johnson worked the first three innings for the Nationals and he and Moore had a battle royal, the Washington boy having the better of the argument, as not a ball was knocked outside the diamond, while a couple of long drives were pulled down by the Texas outfielders. In the fourth Charley Smith relieved without result, but Jerry Freeman proved the man of the minute by hammering out a clean single and Ganley rushed home. Smith was hit safely four times, three BUSINESS BEATS singles and a scratch, but Charley refused to curve the ball, simply depending upon speed and control.

Big Bill Burns went out on the rubber in the seventh, and as it had started to the result that he gave a base on balls to Conoway and then followed it up with a wild pitch. Then came an error by McBride and Conoway dashed to third. Maloney then hit a slow roller toward right that Unglaub tried to come in on in a hurry, and as a result his feet slipped plate resulted, Maloney scoring the tying

MONEY NO OBJECT IN THE JONES CASE

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 24 .-There will be nothing new in the Jones case until I sec Jones in Portland, if I do see him," said Magnate Comiskey. ing off the honors in the closed affair. That the competition between these three schools will be interesting and warm is certain, since in all cases they are great rivals, each against the other two.

The event will probably come off around May 1, thus giving the men plenty of time to train. Comparison of the three teams cannot possibly be made with any chance of being right, but as things now stand the hosts will have the best chance to carry off the honors. Their .eam has been taking about everything in sight during the indoor season, and with the added strength which will be derived from Jimmy Rector being again in action they should be able to roll up quite a bunch of points in this affair. However, they will have no easy time of it, since both the Redskins and Hilltoppers are going after the southerners with a vengeance: Glenn Warner's bunch were by no means at its best indoors since the Georgetown meet was the first of this kind for them. But when it comes to performing on a dirt track they usually make it hot for those that they run against, and it would not be surprising if they should turn the tables on the Orange

The West End lads are also going to make extra efforts to bag the trophy, and the squad which they bring to Charlottesville will not only be the biggest sent out by the institution in a number of years, but it will also be a speedy one. Gibbs, who, according to the eer and Outfielder Flanagan from the New York press, had a big chance to conquer Fordham and Holy Cross in the relay championship last Saturday night until one of the four was knocked down by a spectator crossing the track, all the other stars of the school will be brought out and coached for the affair. Among these it is thought that Rice and Schlosser will be found. These two were disqualified previous to the Georgetown games, but as this trouble was purely a technical one, it will most likely be removed in time to allow them to again compete. Mulligan and Maher will be on hand to take care of the long-distance events, while Martin He is getting along well, but will and Bibbs can run in the 100 and 440 Boernstine will be entered in the 220 and 440, in which events he has already won many medals.
